ONRUSH OF WATERS

A CLOUDBURSTInundation Covers Streets in Some Parts to Depth of Almost 12 Feet.

LINES OUT OF COMMISSION

Railroads and Trolley System Partially Paralyzed by influx of Raging Streams—Several Narrowly Escape Drowning in Thoroughfares—People Flee to Hills.One of the two dams of the Dunbar Furnace Company on Dunbar creek, burst about 2 o'clock this afternoon and within a few minutes the town of Dunbar was swamped under several feet of water, which swept in torrents through the streets.As far as is known, no lives were lost, this undeniably being due to the bravery and fortitude of Miss Margaret Veith, the young Bell telephone operator who stood at her board and notified patrons of the outbreak of the waters.Dozens of buildings were washed away in the torrent, and no estimate as to the extent of the damage is obtainable thus far. There was intense excitement throughout the flooded district, and from the hillside where the frightened residents of the town fled.Hager Dunn, employed by Booth & Ellin, Pittsburgh contractors, with quarters above Dunbar, called Miss Veith of the Bell exchange, warning her that the dam had given way, and telling her to warn the people.The First National Bank and all the business houses and offices in the path of the flood were notified at once. Before the mighty volume of water reached the town, citizens of the threatened district had fled to the hills.At 3 o'clock Dunbar was reported under many feet of water in the business section. The residents of the town are watching the work of destruction from the hills. Shanties, houses and shops are being carried away on the crest of the flood. Much of it is mixed against the three bridges near the center of town, which threaten to give way at any time.Traffic through the town ceased. The West Penn suffered a washout at Lemont, and no cars are running between Lemont and Dunbar. The Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio are both tied up. Tracks of the two railroads enter Dunbar side by side, and in the flooded area they are under five feet of water.The Bell Telephone Company had the only service to the town this afternoon. Tri-State lines are all out of commission, and the Bell expected their lines to fail. Traffic Manager J. A. Colloppe, of the Bell, Uniontown offices, was in Dunbar all morning, inspecting. He was at the Bell Company's office there when the dam burst, and he assisted in warning the residents.To the fact that Colloppe and Miss Veith stayed at their posts in the face of impending disaster, is undoubtedly the cause of there not being a number of drownings at Dunbar. The pair were from 2:15 o'clock, when the warning was received, until all had been notified and told to run for the hills."Mr. Dunn of Bath & Flynn, called me at 2:15 o'clock," said Miss Veith to The Courier this afternoon. "He told me to warn the people, and I did."Among the buildings reported washed away are Kelley's jewelry store, a restaurant, Justice William Holstein's office, and several shacks along the railroad tracks. Smith's livery stable, also is reported to have been washed away.A representative of The Courier reached the scene of the flood shortly after it occurred, and was reported among the residents who said that the cause of the flood was due to a cloudburst and not to the breaking of a dam, as thought at first. The flood was so great that it was impossible to get into communication with anyone at the dam.Owing to the crumpled telephone and trolley service, details of the disaster are almost unobtainable.The Smith house at Dunbar has been motor slightly on its foundation.
No shield had been placed in the streets at Dunbar up to 3 o'clock this afternoon, owing to the swiftness of the flood waters.Two men, who fell exhausted in the streets at Dunbar, were rescued from drowning.At 3 o'clock this afternoon, there were three feet of water in front of the Dunbar House. Earlier in the afternoon, it was reported there were 12 feet of water in the streets.The entire business section of the town is badly damaged. Many buildings are flooded.It is estimated the loss will exceed $100,000.Several families in houses between the two railroads at Dunbar are in danger, and a 145 cubic foot motor, who had witnessed the danger from the hillside, started to wade through the water in an effort to render assistance. The water was up to themen's waists, as they waded over Connellsville street.The gas main burst and Dunbar is out of gas and light.Telephone and telegraph poles have been carried away and scores of lines torn asunder.At 3:30 the flood was reported rising.Great quantities of cinders, ashes, and other debris from the flood at Dunbar floated down the Young-hougheny river past Connellsville this afternoon.The main track of the Pennsylvania railroad, just below town, was washed away.At 3:30 children were being carried across Connellsville street from the lower sections of the town, where the houses are partly submerged.It is feared that the Pennsylvania railroad bridge will be washed out at any moment. The middle pier was about gone at 3:30.MONESSEN GIRL SUICIDE WAS BORN IN CONNELLSVILLENellie Hughes, Who Drowned Self at Morgantown, Daughter of Local Conductor.Pretty Nellie Hughes, the 16-year-old Monessen girl who ended her life in the Monongahela river, just above Morgantown, Sunday morning, was born in Connellsville and her people are well-known here. Her father, who died a few years ago was a Baltimore & Ohio railroad conductor, running out of Connellsville. He was caught in a wreck at Mt. Braddock several years ago, and one leg was chopped off with an axe before he was liberated.It was planned to bury Miss Hughes in Connellsville, where several relatives are buried. These arrangements were changed, however, and the interment took place this morning at Mon-essen. Funeral services were held at the home at 9 o'clock, and were attended by a large number of persons.
The girl was popular in Mon-essen.The girl's mother, who arrived home in the Monessen Hospital at midnight, the night before her daughter committed suicide, is almost prostrated with grief, although she was able to attend the funeral this morning.
It was partly on account of the mother's condition that the body of the young woman was not brought to Connellsville for interment.The body of the girl lay in the same room of the Hughes home in which that of "Tommy" Hughes, her brother, lay after he was drowned five years ago at Monessen.Investigation by the authorities of Monongahela county, W. Va., leads to the belief that the young man who was seen with the girl last Saturday night in Morgantown, was a spectator at the Coroners' inquest.The family of the dead girl has offered a reward for information leading to the arrest of the young man who is believed to be a resident either of Monessen or Pittsburgh.SOUTH CONNELLSVILLE MAN, 87, WEDS WOMAN 42 YEARS OLDGeorge W. Dawson Takes unto Wife Mrs. Louise Belle Thompson, at Uniontown.Cupid's smites entangled George W.
Dawson, aged 87, and Mrs. Louise Belle Thompson, aged 62, in the matrimonial net at Uniontown yesterday.
They returned to their new home in South Connellsville, yesterday afternoon. Last night they were given a reception by half a hundred friends.
Dawson who is a veteran of the Civil War, has all the shyness of youth. Smiles blazed across his face as he and his bride applied for a marriage license. There was a stir when the ages of the applicants became known.Dawson informed the interested speculators he was "an old nappy at one or perhaps three younger men who were so foolish as to get married." This is his second marriage.BALTIMORE & OHIO AND W. M. IN SCHEDULE SCHOOLMen on Local Divisions Form Daily Classes at Cumberland, Md.For the purpose of instructing and fraternizing Baltimore & Ohio and Western Maryland employes with the subdivisions and parts of the latter railroad, Baltimore and Ohio officials conducted the Baltimore & Ohio, W. M. C. A. auditorium in Cumberland.Since the Baltimore & Ohio will use the Western Maryland tracks between Morgantown and Cumberland until completion of trains through the Sand Patch tunnel, it was deemed advisable that employes of both roads should have as much information as possible about the operation of trains and the future plans of the two companies.The classes will be conducted daily until all of the men who will operate trains for either road receives the necessary instructions.

Two Before Burgess.

Mary Blechy, charged with being drunk, was discharged by Burgess Evans this morning, and Roan Rector, arrested on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, was sentenced to serve one year in the penitentiary. Two Assyrians, arrested yesterday morning for possessing pistols on the street, paid their fines yesterday evening, and were released.

Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty and Two Men Ho Accuses of Allding in the Murder of Rosenthal.NEW YORK, July 24.—Deputy Commissioner Dougherty has had no hesitation at any time in asserting that some policemen were concerned in the bold murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler who was shot to death at 2 a.m. in front of the Hotel Metropole. He knows the names of the men who rode up in the auto and shot the gambler, and he says, they will be in custody soon. Commission-er Dougherty is No. 1 in the picture.
No. 2 is "Bulldog" Webber, proprietor of a poker room on Sixth avenue near the scene of the killing. The authorities say that Webber's establishment was the meeting place of the gang.
No. 3 is Sam Paul, head of the Sam Paul association and the leader of an 180 side gang. It is charged that the murder of Rosenthal was planned at a party of the Sam Paul association.Fourteen men were entombed in the Pollock mine of the Superior Coal Company at Evans Station, near Mount Braddock, according to a report which reached here this afternoon. The report said that the depth of the waters was so rapid the men were unable to get out of the mine and were buried in the workings.General Manager A. G. Stieckel was notified and left Connellsville this afternoon for the mine.There were 35 men in the mine when the flood arrived. Some of them got out but it is believed 14 have perished.
Families of the miners are frantic.

The mine communication is cut off.

It is reported that the Cool-spring reservoir, north of Uniontown, has broken. No official confirmation can be secured. Official of the company owning the reservoir, left hurriedly in autos for the scene. It is believed the breaking of the reservoir flooded the Superior mine.Commenting on the fire department this morning, Fire Chief John Haddock gave interesting information regarding the status of the town. The borough has about 3,600 feet of hose that can be brought into immediate use. There are four hand hose carts, and one wagon on the West Side.
There is located on this side of the river, the fire wagon, and to top all the Borough has a new automobile truck and fireman.State Fire Marshal Baldwin has opened communication with about 4,500 officials throughout the State preparatory to getting his new department into action.The body of Orlando De Polo, the 7-year-old son of Alfredo De Polo, of 115 Queen street, was found floating in the Youghiogheny river near Gratztown at 11 o'clock this morning by Frank Chirchot, a lad of that place.
The body was brought to the home of the Chirchot boy at Gratztown and Underlayer Schroyer of West Newton was called.A long distance telephone communication from West Newton, George Shorner, of Fairview avenue was noticed. Mrs. Shorner told Mrs. De Polo of the finding of her son's body shortly after noon.The body of the boy was fully identified. Arrangements are being made this afternoon for the transportation of the body to this place.The body was found on the opposite side of the river from West Newton, near Gratztown. The Chirchot boy was 14 and was swimming across the river in a boat and discovered the body floating down stream. Isaac Moon, in the employ of the Bell Telephone Company here, who was working in that vicinity, knew of the boy's death and identified the body.The father had searched the waters of Connell Run since the boy was drowned.INQUISTION INTO LIGONIER WRECK EARLY NEXT WEEKConductor Kuhn of Freight Train Discharged From Pittsburgh Hospital.The report that the railroads are preparing to move in Congress, the State Legislature and the courts for the abolition of the 2-cent passenger rate and for a general rise in rates was discussed in local railroad offices this morning. The charge was made yesterday, at a hearing before an examiner of the Interstate Commerce Commission in the Federal building at Pittsburgh.The accusation was made by Attorney N. B. Billingsley of Ligonier, O.,who declared that the action of the Central Passenger Association in abolishing excursion rates was due to the fear that the rates might hamper the roads in their efforts to show that passenger business is unprofitable.The most important matter at the hearing was that the Pennsylvania road runs excursion trains to Idlewild, near Ligonier, but refuses to join with the Bessemer & Lake Erie in taking excursion parties to Stockton.The hearing was in the complaint made by the Cambria Board of Trade, Rock Springs Park Company, Young-town Sheet & Tube Company, Relief Association and Conneaut Lake Company.The American-Italian Company LANDS FIREWORKS CONTRACT Will Give Exhibition at Cumberland During "Old Home Week."The American-Italian Fireworks Company at Dunbar, has landed the contract for the exhibition of fireworks at Cumberland early in September. Cumberland will hold an "Old Home Week" at that time. The American-Italian Company recently gave an exhibition at Crabtree.The company is contemplating a display at Fayette, Field during the Western Maryland celebration early in August.MONEY ARRIVES FOR THE

PRIZES AWARDED AT TROTTER WORKS OF FRICK COKE COMPANY

52; third, $1, Mrs. Ralph Ticey. The three named deserve credit and praise for their beautiful flowers and lawns. The yard of Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Ticey are a mass of all kinds of blossoming plants and vines add greatly to the appearance. The porch of the Ticey home is covered with blossoming vines and several pretty basketfuls hang from the sides. Potted plants also adorned the porch.

The favorite flowers of the foreigners is the dahlia. Sweet peas, larkspur, poppies, sweet williams, hollyhocks and other flowers are in evidence. At several of the homes were flower beds and paths which in the fall will help beautify the grounds.

The lawn of Mrs. Ralph Ticey is particularly beautiful. The entire lot with the exception of a small portion at the rear, is in grass and the boundaries are bordered with flowers of different colors. The lawn is beautifully kept and inspects many of the town lawns. They work on his back to earn time after time to work to beautify the beauty of the "lively" grounds.

Other lawns and flowers worthy of mention, those of Charles Doherty, House No. 26; Carl Clegg, House No. 21; and Michael Coddin, House No. 22; and the Jacobs, Moresky house. The flowers of House No. 26 included several beds of beautiful pansies.

The judges returned to the office of Superintendent, P. J. Tormay, and made their report. Superintendent Tormay has been with the H. C. Frick Coke Company at Trotter for the last 26 years.

The well-kept gardens help to reduce the cost of living it is said, in addition to beautifying the surroundings.

At Continental No. 1, the lawns and flowers were inspected by Miss Frances Howell, President of the City Beautiful League, Uniontown. Mrs. J. H. Kerr and Mrs. Frank Shuler, prizes were awarded as follows: First, $5, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gano; second, $3, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chambers; third, $1, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Lescan. ## ST. SWITHIN LEGEND TRUE SO FAR WITH TODAY'S RAIN

Heavy Downpour Over the Coke Region Causes Additional Damage.

St. Swithin may not be so far wrong after all. Present weather indications continue. The legend is that, if it rains on the day designated to the memory of St. Swithin, it will continue to rain for 40 days.

Projections yesterday that the rains were over were smashed to smithereens this morning when residents of the town awoke to another heavy delugeing over the coke region.

The rain began soon after 5 o'clock and continued intermittently until noon. Darkness accompanied the downpour and several residents looked at clocks this morning to find that they had been fooled, and had slept beyond their usual time.

So far there have been no reports of additional damage caused by the rain. Loss to farmers throughout the region has been heavy. The lawn of Mrs. Ralph Ticey is particularly beautiful. The entire lot with the exception of a small portion at the rear, is in grass and the boundaries are bordered with flowers of different colors. The lawn is beautifully kept and inspects many of the town lawns. They work on his back to earn time after time to work to beautify the beauty of the "lively" grounds.

Unlimited guarantee on the Piano; five years guarantee on the Player.

Life Insurance—in case of death all remaining payments cancelled.

Liberal rebates for payments made before due—best investment you can make.

Exchange of instrument you select any time within one year absolutely free.

No interest and no charge for packing, hauling or freight east of the Mississippi.

Free stool and scarf with Piano.

Free bench, scarf, 12 rolls and year's subscription to Player Roll Library with Player.

BIG CASH SAVING AND VALUABLE EXTRAS

An actual saving to Piano purchasers of $100 and to Player purchasers of $150 is enough to make this Piano Club the most notable and most popular merchandising event in history. We want you to realize that this saving is actual—it is real. We want you to distinguish between this co-operative club plan of money-saving and the so-called "sales." Even so large a sum as $100 or $150 looks small beside some figures you'll see. But get at the logic of the proposition. Be sure the "offer" will stand the fierce sunlight of reason and common sense. There are sales and schemes galore. But are they reasonable? Are they possible? Do they appeal to your business sense? The Frederick Club will.

We invite careful scrutiny of our Club Plan. We want you to reason it out for yourself and believe in it.

With assurance that 1,000 people will take 1,000 pianos and players in a short time we make a contract with a manufacturer on terms that make possible unprecedentedly low prices. Only the power of such an enormous purchase could secure such prices. Only a house with an enormous outlet could engage in such a tremendous enterprise. There can be no doubt in your mind as to the sincerity of our statement that an equal saving on pianos and players of merit was never before possible. You can have no doubt of our ability to execute such a deal as the purchase of 1,000 instruments at one time. You can have no doubt about the saving of $100 on the piano and the saving of $150 on the player being real and not imaginary. With full confidence, carefully consider the extraordinary opportunity this great Club Sale affords you. Consider the opportunity to save $100 or $150—consider the special extras—and consider the splendid instruments. We would not be able to offer you a piano and player of such established high standard if the plan were not sound and proper. And we would not if we could. We cheerfully stake our reputation on the plan, peculiarly a Frederick institution though freely (and feebly) imitated. It is undoubtedly your golden opportunity.

Think of It! $375 Piano for $278; $600 Player for $450

Such a saving is only possible by reason of our making an actual bona fide cash purchase of 1,000 pianos for immediate delivery. It means a saving of $100 to $150 to every member of the club. It means a total saving to our customers of fully the enormous sum of $125,000—a very fortune. But big and astounding as these figures are, they are possible when a house like ours deals with a great factory on such a gigantic scale. Thousands of former club members will recommend this plan, for we have saved them nearly a million dollars.

Note the Extras.

In addition to selling you a Piano at an actual saving of $100 or a Player Piano at an actual saving of $150, we offer you a number of very advantageous and unique club features. These we enumerate at the head of this page. Perhaps they are secondary, but they are important.

Cash Rebates.

The Rebating System is an instance. Figure it out for yourself. Every time you make a payment of $1.50 before it is due we hand you back 25¢ in cash. If you pay 10 payments in advance—that's $15—we give you $3.75 in cash. You may avail yourself of the extremely easy terms if you wish, but it will pay you to anticipate payments when you can.

MINING AND TRANSPORTATION.

A million-dollar coal deal is reported in Cambria County. It is hinted that the real buyer is the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and that this action on the part of the company was regarded as necessary to protect its transportation investments against the encroachment of a rival railroad.

The railroads have time out of mind been associated with coal mining propositions. The association was natural but not always a proper one.

The railroads are large consumers of coal themselves, and if their mining interests stopped there probably no objections would be made, but when the railroads engage in mining as well as transporting coal the temptation to discriminate against the operators who have no railroads and must ship their product over the coal roads becomes too great to be permitted as a matter of public policy.

Under the circumstances it is hardly probable that the Pennsylvania is buying coal lands in Cambria County or any place else.

SIGHTING OF BULL MOOSE.

The Bull Moose is preparing to give Pennsylvanians an example of the Square Deal, for which he is justly famous. It has been decided to put the Bull Moose electors on both sides, and to withhold action until it is too late for the Taft supporters to change the situation.

Every act and utterance of Theodore Roosevelt indicates that he has no bone of being anything but a bad third in the Presidential race on a bad third ticket, and that his sole and only purpose in running is to defeat the men who defeated his ambitions for a Third Term.

Perhaps the most interesting thing about Colonel Roosevelt's candidacy is that some very expert publicists have been led to believe that he is constituting a serious threat to Taft based upon the high purpose of patriotic endeavor.

As a matter of fact he is a confirmed optimist always for himself and the country at large.

That which can be detected as well as told remains. The whole has nothing to do with our coal imports.

Continued improvement is noted in the railroad business and the steel products and finished iron trades. But the iron and steel and Connellsville operators have to fight hard in a living price for their coal. The results of our previous indicated the coal companies property without sharing equally in it.

Virginia has a small coal area, but it is not popular for its size.

The continuous rains have watered out some coke plants.

The steel trade is growing in volume and value but the discount of the attempt of a Democratic House to beat down its price is off.

Everybody plants in the summer but the employees of the daily newspaper. They are everlastingly on the job.

The Elks Club of the Fayette County Fair is there evidently poised over the Bozo Club.

James F. Lee still stands the Peerless Coal Products.

Vanderbilt has decided that she must resign the State Lieut., a decision she cannot rule. The conclusion is sensible if not wholly satisfactory.

The West Penn's waterpower plant on the Cheat river will necessitate a big first cost, but it will doubtless be economical in the end because of the minimum cost of operation. White coal is especially cheaper than the black variety because it produces its heat and is more easily combustible.

Scottsdale has no need of a hangman, but we are tempted to think that she sometimes needs a foot-soldier.

It looks as if the Street Commissioner of Connellsville would have an all summer job repairing the damages wrought by my daily day-pounds.

The storm conditions have developed at least one big hero in Connellsville.

The flower beds and vegetable gardens are at their best in July. It is the most glorious moment to award the first prize.

When I last left the town a call. He was not invited to come back.

Dunbar's Gentleman route looked a little long to the Post office department but the Washington officials probably didn't know that Dunbar is the dog boy.

If the W.M. motor court keeps on sending Connellsville and Mahon to jail it is possible that they will land there some day and be martyrs to torture.

THE LAKE POETS

By Isaac of Yukon.

The Lake Poets lived out their last days in Cumberland county, England, near Lake Windermere, where swimming was fine and where no treacherous woodland nymphs hung around the shores to steal their clothing.

When the Lake Poets washed their feet in the lake, the fish usually had an attack of infantile paralysis. It might have been some relief to the poets to wade in the lake, but it was mighty hard on the poor little fish that tried to live up to the rules of health. Had the Lake Poets lived at South Greenbury, or Battersby, they would today be known as Jack's Run poets. Their poetry would not only have made Jack's Run famous, but had they bathed their feet in the water of the moat the sulphur would have been neutralized to such an extent that fish and frogs could live in the stream today.

Greatly popular of the Lake Poets' poetry is very dry and full of frolics. Some of their verses are constipated, perverse and warty. Englishmen who take pride in any great thing that is English can read their literary poems all right, but a foreigner always has to swear a little between verses when reading it.

There is evidence in their poetry that the inferno were active prima and d'apple eterna. A man's poetry is always known by the prunes he eats.

Wolsworth, Coleridge and Southey thought this world over when they wrote the poetry they broke off in chunks, but this world was not built that way. Even today a man has a dozen of a time to sell a poem or even trade it for a simple Greek restaurant dinner.

Humanity is tired of the Lake Poets' poetry because they mixed too much water in their verses. No man has time to filter ideas from poetry that has been watered. Poetry to be appreciated must be clear enough so you can drink it without the britches scratching as it is imbibed.

That has to be studied, in not poetry.

Robert Southey ate so many prunes that the last four years of his life he was "nutty." Prunes and poetry will not mix well in the human anatomy.

The Seven Modern Wonders.

The Seven Modern Wonders, "Popular Mechanics" has secured expression of opinion from nearly 1,000 scientists of the day in the selection of the Seven Wonders of the modern world. The Seven Wonders of the ancient world were: The Pyramid of Egypt; Pharaoh of Alexander of Ptolemy at Ephesus; Statue of Jupiter by Phidias; Mausoleum of Artemis; Hanging Gardens of Babylon; Temple and the Colossus of Rhodes. Of the Ancient Wonders but one, Pharaos, the 300-foot lighthouse of Alexandria, was a practical utility. The others were created in fanatical reverence of heathen gods or were the freakish whims of monarchs.

The potentials of 1912 vote for amply utilized things as Wonders.

The ballot taken covered a wide range of choice, the ten leading subjects being as follows: Wireless Telegraph, 211; Telephone, 183; Aeroplane, 167; Automobile, 97; Automobile and Antitank, 106; Spectrum Analysis, 126; X-Ray, 111; Cathode Ray, 100; Anesthesia, 91; Synthetic Chemistry, 81.

New York's Population.

In 1910 the total population of New York was 4,788,883, and the total estimated in 1912 was 4,882,452.

Continued improvement is noted in the railroad business and the steel products and finished iron trades. But the iron and steel and Connellsville operators have to fight hard in a living price for their coal. The results of our previous indicated the coal companies property without sharing equally in it.

Virginia has a small coal area, but it is not popular for its size.

The continuous rains have watered out some coke plants.

The steel trade is growing in volume and value but the discount of the attempt of a Democratic House to beat down its price is off.

The West Penn's waterpower plant on the Cheat river will necessitate a big first cost, but it will doubtless be economical in the end because of the minimum cost of operation. White coal is especially cheaper than the black variety because it produces its heat and is more easily combustible.

AEROPLANES IN ARMY MANEUVERS

They Will Be Used in Attack on New York in August.

CORPS' FIRST ASSIGNMENT.

The Enemy Is to Land in New England and Then Advance—General Bliss Chief Umpire—Commanders Named For Attacking and Defending Forces.

The army aviation corps received its first assignment to real military duty in orders issued from the war department for the dispatch of two aeroplanes and operators to Bridgeport, Conn., to take part in the joint maneuvers there, to be held near New York in August. These maneuvers, in which 15,000 militiamen and about 8,000 regulars are to participate, will take the form of an attack upon and defense of New York city.

Captain Charles D. Chandler, in command of the army aviation school at College Park, Md., will have charge of the aviation detachment ordered to Bridgeport. Lieutenants Kirkland, Milling and Arnold, all qualified aviators, will accompany him. Two aeroplanes will be sent, together with auto trucks and all necessary equipment. The necessary number of enlisted men will be sent from the College Park school to care for the machines.

It is planned that one of the aeroplanes and two of the aviators will be assigned to the attacking force and the other machine, with the two aviators, to the defending force. The aviators will be expected, according to present plans, to take the air daily and perform scouting duty.

First Use of Aeroplanes.

This will be the first time aeroplanes will have been called into service in an army war game in this country. Officers who represented the United States at the German maneuvers last summer had opportunity to see the progress made by the Germans in military aviation.

These officers said on their return that the aeroplane played an important part in the German maneuvers. They rose each day in surprise, usually early in the morning before the movements of the troops began, and endeavored to learn in detail the disposition of the enemy's forces. Information thus obtained proved of great value to the opposing commanders, it was then stated.

Though the aeroplane detachments in the American maneuvers will be much smaller it is expected their work will prove invaluable to the military service in learning the use of the aeroplane for military purposes.

Brigadier General Taft H. Bliss will be in charge of the maneuvers around New York as chief umpire. The attacking and defending forces will be commanded by Brigadier General Uderwood A. Smith and Colonel Edward J. McFerland. Colonel McFerland has been nominated to be a brigadier general, and it is expected by the time of the maneuvers next month his nomination will have been confirmed.

The Opposing Forces.

The militiamen of Maine, Massachusetts, Vermont and Connecticut, with a detachment of regulars, will compose the force attacking New York. They will be mobilized at Boston and New London and carried to some point on the Connecticut coast near New York and landed on the beach.

The defending force will consist of the militia organizations of New York and New Jersey and a detachment of regulars. They will take a position to be chosen by the commanding general as best suited for the defense of the city from attack on the northeast.

For the playing of the war game a definite condition of safety has been assumed. It is to be imagined that a foreign enemy has succeeded in landing on the New England coast after destroying the United States fleet.

The enemy has likewise defeated the first American land forces and is moving on toward New York. The Americans are gathering their second defending army to meet the invader and protect New York city. With this situation on paper the war game will begin, and New York will then be the prize contested for.

Marble Amphitheater Planned For Arlington Ceremonials.

A new amphitheater in the National cemetery at Arlington will probably be dedicated on Memorial day, 1913. Members of the G. A. R. are responsible largely for negotiating the plan to build the new amphitheater to replace a dilapidated wooden structure that has done service for thirty years.

Of white marble, the new amphitheater, as planned by a special committee, will seat 5,000 persons, including room for 200 to 300 on the stage or platform. Part of the amphitheater will be unroofed, as is the present building.

Patriotic societies holding services at Arlington are expected to use the building in addition to the annual Memorial day ceremonies.
